

Croucher Summer Course 2015

Research Methodology for Disaster & Medical Humanitarian Response

13-17 July 2015, Hong Kong

What is it?

A 5-day residential summer course on research methodologies and evidence-based health interventions related to humanitarian emergencies.

Selected topics include:

- Public health approaches to medical and humanitarian disaster response
- Operation research in conflicts and complex emergencies
- Frameworks for research and evaluations of the health aspects of disasters
- Designing qualitative research for disaster settings

Faculty:

Speakers are from

- The World Association for Disaster and Emergency Medicine
- London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine
- The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Organizers:

Collaborating Centre for Oxford University and CUHK
for Disaster and Medical Humanitarian Response
CCOUC 災害與人道救援研究所

Croucher Foundation
裘槎基金會

Who should apply?

Target audience:

Postgraduate students and early career researchers in Hong Kong and the Asia Pacific, with academic interest in the humanitarian and emergency response sectors.

How to apply?

Interested individuals may visit CCOUC.org for course details and registration. Deadline for application is 30 April 2015.

Registration fee:

HKD 4,000 covering tuition, course materials and accommodation (6 nights).

For more information:

<http://www.ccouc.ox.ac.uk/croucher-course>

Email: ccouc@cuhk.edu.hk

Tel: +852 2252 8850

